

Six close relatives of Martha Fantl née Kahn, who had fled to Czechoslovakia in 1933, stayed in the transit camp Theresienstadt in February 1942. After being separated they were deported from there to various death camps in the East. They were murdered in April 1942.

Martha's mother Anna Fantl née Platowski (19.11.1879 - 23.04.1942)
 Martha's sister Elsa, married Stern (28.02.1904 - 25.4.1942)
 her husband Karl Stern (17.04.1897 - 25.04.1942) their two young sons Herbert (17.02.1933 - 25.04.1942) and Rudolf Stern (06.01.1935 - 25.04.1942)
 Martha's brother Hans Fantl (22.03.1913 - date and location of death unknown)

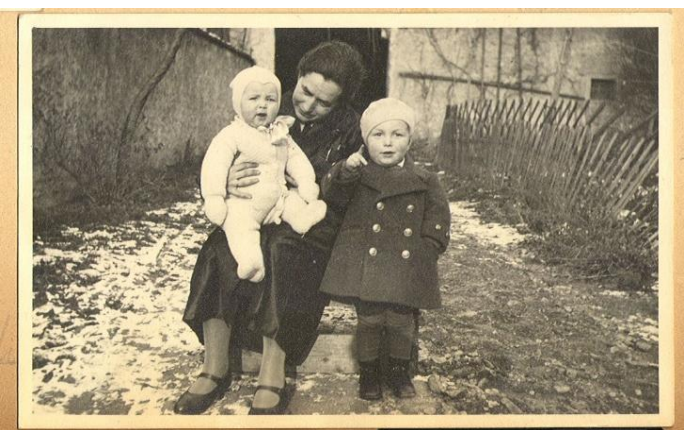

4- Kahn-relatives in Furth im Wald, a page from Erich Kahn's photo album

Elsa Stern
née Fantl

Anna Fantl
née Platowski

Hans Fantl

Elsa Stern née Fantl with her two children Rudi and Berti

5- Infront of Eichmann's adjunct HSTF Moehrs (right) and camp commander OSTF Rahm those people selected for transport to Auschwitz by train pass Bahnhofstraße L2. A card board label around their neck shows their transport number.

6- Deportation with a hearse, unsigned, fall of 1942
 Aged people sorted out for deportation via „Old-Age-Transport“ are removed with an old hearse, the only means of transportation for internal use in the camp.

Sources of Illustrations

4. photos from Erich Kahn's photo album
USA, private
5. Herta Metz-Baumgarten,
Before Deportation to Auschwitz
in: H. G. Adler, Ibid., p. 282.
6. Deportation by Hearse
in: H. G. Adler, Ibid., p. 264.